

Your Life is Worth Living!

“Although there have been some occasional challenges, my life now is excellent and I really appreciate being alive to live it.”

– Margaret

Margaret speaks from the experience and perspective of a woman approaching 70.

“Ever since I was twelve years old, I have been treated by psychiatrists and many other people in the mental health system.

For over thirty-eight years, I considered myself to have active suicidal intentions. My years in my mid-twenties were my worst. At that time, if euthanasia for mental health reasons [alone] was accepted, I would have never attended my nephew’s wedding, or met my two great-nieces and my great-nephew.

I would NOT have wanted to miss any of my life and I look forward to my future. Sometimes I still do struggle, but life is definitely worth the living.”

Say “NO” to euthanasia by saying
“YES!” to each day, a life worth living!
